What's New?

What a month it has been! I ended up in the hospital the beginning of the month, three days before I was suppose to fly out with other members of the Grace Ministries Team too Guyana. I ended up having a forty-eight hour virus that was treated with fluids and Tylenol; through God's healing, I was able to continue forward with the travel plans. On February 7th I left out of Miami and flew to Guyana with the team where we spent the week scouting out the 7 acre property the Lord has graciously provided for our team to utilize for ministry. Food for the Poor has also come on board to partner with us in the development of the land and help build a discipleship training center, soccer field, girls and boys dorm and much more. During our time there, we were able to travel to other villages where there are already established churches and conduct a worship service each night. The Lord blessed each one with a handful of people accepting the Lord into their hearts. Praise God! The last day of being in the interior, we met a family that had paddled down river for two hours to come to church. This family long story short, were part of a UPG (Unreached People Group) known as the Waro people. We have been praying that God would open a door for us to touch base, and begin a relationship with them. It was such a special moment for our team when we did. The family is pictured in the image to the right below.

What's Next?

I am currently spending my time in Cape Coral, FL working diligently towards my support goal. I am building relationships, and gaining partnerships. I am reading and soaking in as much material as I can to further my growth spiritually and mentally. I joined a gym, where I am working on my physical health also. It is my goal to be emotionally, physically, and mentally healthy for when the Lord launches me out full-time.

How Can You Pray?

1. Partnerships & Support
2. God continue to mold and prepare my heart
3. Mental adjustment & Family

Thank you for your prayers and support, and for holding your end of the rope on this journey!

Christ Servant,

Joshua Templeton
